

Curriculum Vitae

Erwin Alexander Dunnebier was born on March 26, 1967 in Lexington, Kentucky, USA.

After six years secondary school (Atheneum-B) at the Blaise Pascal College in Zaandam, he served his Military Duty as a paramedic from 1985-1986. He studied medicine at the University of Amsterdam (Academic Medical Centre) from 1986-1993. In the last period, he participated in scientific research at different departments and published and presented this work at several occasions.

From 1993 he started his thesis as well as clinical work at the Department of Otorhinolaryngology of the University Hospital Groningen, Groningen, The Netherlands. From August 1995, he started his residency in Otorhinolaryngology in the same department (Head: Prof.Dr. F.W.J. Albers), which will be completed in the year 2000.